

Youth is happiness

This is a false stereotype. At least in the developed world, elder people are happier than younger (especially middle-aged). As Maurice Chevalier said: "Old age isn't so bad when you consider the alternative."

